

CLOSURE OF MAEWILL ENGLISH COLLEGE NEW SOUTH WALES

Information for current or intending students

Maewill English College New South Wales (Maewill NSW) was placed into Voluntary Administration on Thursday 19 November 2009.

This means that the college can no longer teach overseas students.

The Australian Government has in place comprehensive arrangements to ensure that your interests are safeguarded. Key elements include the obligations of Maewill English College, the tuition assurance scheme and the Education Services for Overseas Students (ESOS) Assurance Fund.

- Maewill NSW has not met its obligations to students under the Education Services for Overseas Students Act 2000.
- Maewill NSW is a member of the tuition assurance scheme managed by the Australian Council for Private Education and Training (ACPET). ACPET is now required to offer you a suitable alternative course. Under this arrangement you will not be required to pay extra money if you have already paid money in advance to Maewill NSW.
- The Australian Government Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations is overseeing this process.
- If ACPET is unable to place you in a suitable alternative course then the ESOS Assurance Fund may offer you a place in a suitable alternative course. If the Assurance Fund is unable to place you in a suitable alternative course you may be eligible for a refund.

You do not need to enrol yourself in another course at this time. Arrangements are being made to ensure you can continue your studies with minimal disruption.

You should retain all records concerning your enrolment at Maewill including receipts and academic records.

For further assistance please contact ACPET on maewill.syd@acpet.edu.au

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Students enrolled at Maewill NSW

Q. What happens next?

A. The Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations (DEEWR) has activated the ACPET tuition assurance scheme to arrange a placement for you in a suitable alternative course. You will be contacted by ACPET shortly regarding suitable alternative course options.

Q. I didn't attend the student meeting held on 25 November 2009. What should I do?

A. Keep all records regarding your enrolment at your college. Check the website for information updates www.aei.gov.au/ESOS or call the ESOS Helpline on 1300 363 079. For information about alternative courses contact ACPET at maewill.syd@acpet.edu.au

Q. Will I be enrolled with another education provider?

A. The Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations (DEEWR) have asked the Australian Council for Private Education and Training (ACPET) to offer each student a place in a suitable alternative course with another provider. You should not have to pay any extra money to this provider if you paid money in advance to your school.

You must keep all official records of your academic progress and official receipts for all fees you have paid to your school. These might be useful later to establish your entitlements.

Q. What will happen with my visa?

A. The Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC) appreciates that students are not responsible for the college closing and further visa information for students is available on the DIAC website at: www.immi.gov.au/students/education-providers-approval.htm

If you have questions about your visa, please contact DIAC as soon as possible. If students are in Australia they can contact DIAC on 131 881. If students are outside Australia, a list of immigration offices is available at: www.immi.gov.au/contacts/overseas/index.htm

Q. What if I have to stay longer in Australia to complete my qualification – will my student visa be extended?

A. Please check your student visa's expiry date. If you require further time to finish your new course in Australia you must apply for a further student visa before your visa expires.

You can either check your visa label for your visa expiry date or use the Department of Immigration and Citizenship's Visa Entitlement Verification Online (VEVO) service at www.immi.gov.au/e visa/vevo.htm

Q. Can I enrol in a new college?

A. It is very important that you give your tuition assurance scheme the opportunity to find you a placement in a suitable alternative course. Under the TAS placement arrangements you should not be required to pay any additional amount to undertake a portion of the new provider's course for which you have already paid money in advance to your institution.

Q. I cancelled my course before 19 November 2009. Am I entitled to a full refund of my course fee?

A. Students who withdrew from their course while the course was being provided are cases of "student default". This means you are only entitled to the amount of refund stated in the written agreement you signed with the college. You will need to check the provisions of your written agreement. If you are entitled to a refund under the written agreement which the college has not paid to you, you may be referred to the ESOS Assurance Fund for assessment of your claim.

If you cancelled your course before 19 November 2009, you may have rights under Australian consumer protection law to a refund or compensation from Maewill NSW. The Department cannot advise you on these rights. To obtain further information see details under Important Contacts.

Q. I enrolled myself in another course with another school or college before the ACPET TAS offered me another course. Do I have to accept the offer made by the TAS?

A. No. If you have a Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) with another school or college you do not have to accept the ACPET offer. However, it is important that you keep your official records of your academic progress and official receipts for all fees you have paid to the college. These might be useful later on in establishing your refund entitlements, if any.

You must notify ACPET if you are declining their offer.

If you enrol in a new college, remember that you will be entering into a new written agreement. Please make sure that you are aware of the provisions in your new agreement.

Q. My visa has been refused by the Department of Immigration and Citizenship. What should I do?

A. Please email esosmailbox@deewr.gov.au and attach a copy of your visa refusal letter and copies of receipts for all course money paid to your school or college. A DEEWR officer will respond to you as soon as possible.

Q. I have paid money to the college for my course but I have not yet left for Australia. What happens to me.

A. If you have paid a deposit to the provider before the college closed you may be entitled to be considered for assistance under the Australian Government's consumer protection framework. You will be contacted shortly with details of the options which may be open to you under these arrangements and we urge you to check back regularly at this website for updated information.
